Charge Forward Partnership Adds AARP As New Member

Richmond, VA – The Charge Forward Partnership (CFP) –is a national coalition of businesses, associations and individuals that share the common goal of efficiently and effectively developing a charging network for electric vehicles (EVs) across the United States. The current charging system was established based on policies largely dictated by the power companies and does not benefit consumers nor incentivize the growth of the EV charging network. Today, the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) officially became a member of CFP and they join countless other organizations who already make up the Partnership.
